THE GREAT
KIDNEY REGULATOR AND DIURETIC.

KIDNEGEN is highly recommended and unsurpassed for WEAK or FOUL KIDNEYS, DROPSY, BRIGHT'S DISEASE, LOSS of ENERGY, NERVOUS DEBILITY, or any OBSTRUCTIONS arising from GRAVEL or BLADDER DISEASES. Also for YELLOW FEVER, BLOOD and KIDNEY POISONING, in infected malarial sections.

By the distillation of a FOREST LEAF with JUNIPER BERRIES and BARLEY MALT we have discovered KIDNEGEN, which acts specifically on the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, removing deposits in the Bladder and any straining, smarting, heat or irritation in the water passages, giving them strength, vigor and causing a healthy color and easy flow of urine. It can be taken at all times, in all climates, without injury to the system. Unlike any other preparation for Kidney difficulties, it has a very pleasant and agreeable taste and flavor. It contains positive diuretic properties and will not nauseate. Ladies especially will like it, and Gentlemen will find KIDNEGEN the best Kidney Tonic ever used!

NOTICE.—Each bottle bears the signature of LAWRENCE & MARTIN, also a Proprietary Government Stamp, which permits KIDNEGEN to be sold (without license) by druggists grocers and other persons everywhere.

Put up in Quart-size Bottles for General and Family Use.

THE SENATORIAL DISCUSSION.

SPEECH OF MR. MAHONE.

Below we give an abstract of Senator Mahone's speech in the Senate, last Monday, at the close of which he was warmly congratulated by his Republican colleagues:

Mr. Mahone premised his speech by expressing his regret that he should be compelled again to interrupt the deliberations of the Senate. I trust, he said, that Senators and the country will concede that, to this seeming forwardness, I am provoked, if I may fail to challenge the generous consideration of those who would appear to have found pleasure without justification in their varied and ungenerous assaults. I do not doubt that I shall command the respect of brave and independent spirits here, as I know I shall among my own people. I shall not complain of that indirection which has characterized the manner and method of Senators in their allusions to me. I must accept that. They comport entirely with their own sense of manly deportment and senatorial dignity, however little they do with my own.

Virginia is accustomed to meet occasions where the independent spirit of the Anglo-Saxon is required to assert itself. Virginia has ever met, with fortitude and becoming dignity, every duty which destiny has imposed, always, however, with much contempt for small party lines, when a principle was involved, in which her faith and honor were committed. With absolute confidence in my loyalty to her, and my devotion to every interest of her people, I will not relax my purpose here to repel every impeachment of the constituents who sent me to this chamber with clearly defined duties which they and I comprehend. I was elected to the United States Senate to do their will—not to a caucus to do its bidding. Virginia gained her title of "Old Dominion" by the broad and independent action of her own people, by the loyalty of her sons, by the without help at the hands of those who would now interfere with her affairs. However feebly I may express that spirit against the gratuitous care and concern for her at the hands of strangers—strangers to her trials, her sacrifices and to her will—I feel that the spirit of her people inspires me when I scornfully repel for them and for myself the ungenerous attempts to instruct a Virginia Senator as to his duty to them and to himself. Senators should be willing to deal with their constituents. I answer for mine. To him that would insinuate that my action in regard to the organization of the committees of this body (and I am loth to believe that any senator has so intended), in the language of another I say:

> "If thou sayest I am not peer
> To any lord of Scotland here,
> Highland or lowland, far or near,
> Lord Angus, thou hast lied."

Now, permit me to say that Senators can no more realize my regret than they can measure my amazement that my colleague (Johnston) should have felt it incumbent on himself to join the assaulting column in this chamber. He first introduces the question of my political consistency, or, if he prefers, inconsistency, and next he would introduce me to this honorable body, not as his colleague, but as a repudiator of public obligations. The sense of justice of my fellow-senators renders it necessary for me to apologize for noticing my colleague's criticisms on the one hand and his perversions on the other. However much he and his cohorts may endeavor by the cheap logic of the attorney to demonstrate what I ought to be, I am by my convictions and my sense of honor what I am. In this particular I have largely the advantage of my colleague, for, if I take him by his record, diminutive as it is, he neither knows what he is nor what duty he came here to perform. [Laughter.]

Mr. Mahone then proceeded to give an exhaustive review of the political and for the last decade. He declared that the Readjusters had never repealed any of the funding contracts made by Virginia, but asserted that the bill passed in 1875 by the Virginia Legislature, and known as the "brokers' bill," which had been advocated by his colleague, repudiated, and forcibly repudiated, one-third of the debt of Virginia. The Readjusters held that two-thirds of the money which Virginia had borrowed should be paid, the other third belonging to West Virginia, according to every principle of law and equity. Since 1871 the Readjusting party had denied to the creditor the war interest, and had proposed to pay the rest in full. Its adversaries had funded that war interest, and proposed to repudiate one-half of that which Virginia was in law and honor bound to pay. He would like the Senators from West Virginia to tell the country what that State had done with reference to the payment of one-third of the debt contracted by the commonwealth of Virginia—whether it had ever proposed to pay one stiver to maintain the honor and dignity of the old commonwealth. He criticised the action of his colleague in not defending the people of Virginia from the accusation that they were dishonorable—dishonorable, too, in the opinion of men who represented States which by arbitrary legislation had reduced their debts from $243,000,000 to $84,000,000. He sent to the clerk's desk and had read a table showing the extent to which the debts of the Southern States had been scaled down. "Repudiation honorable! Readjustment dishonorable! Oh, Virginia!" he said, "it was for this you bared your bosom to the soldier's tread and the horse's foot; it was for this you laid waste your fields and displayed your fortitude and courage, your heroic suffering and sacrifice; it was for this you suffered the dismemberment of your territory and sent your sons to the field to return to the ruins that were once their homes; it was for this you so reluctantly abandoned your allegiance to the common country to be last in war and last to go out. Oh, ingratitude, thou

BASEST AND MEANEST OF CRIMES!

I would not occupy," he continued, "any more of the time of the Senate with the subject of the Virginia debt, but would refer now to an interrogatory put last Friday by Senator Voorhees to Senator Logan as to whether the latter would indorse the papers of an applicant for the smallest postoffice who favored repudiation, either of State or National debt." He would ask the gentleman (Mr. Voorhees) how he found it compatible with his principles to associate with Senators from States that had "repudiated," but had not "readjusted." He had never heard Mr. Riddleberger express a favorable opinion even of the views of the Senator from Indiana on the National debt. [Laughter.] He also quoted from John W. Dane, one of the leaders of the Bourbon party in Virginia, denouncing the iniquitous measures of federal finances and proposing to reverse them. He recommended the Senators from Indiana and Delaware (Messrs. Voorhees and Bayard) to try and reconcile their differences of views on the financial question before the Senator from Indiana again discussed the subject. As to the Senator from Georgia (Mr. Brown) who seemed to be so much troubled about readjustment, he questioned whether the world had ever produced a man who could so readily readjust himself to all conditions and all circumstances. [Laughter.] That gentleman had got ahead of the people and of the Democratic party in the effort to dissolve the Union and was the first Governor in the South to confiscate private property in the courts of Savannah, and to seize Fort Pulaski before the act of secession. Rumor had it that the presidency of the confederate States was the gentleman's object at that time. In the struggle that ensued he (Mr. Brown) was earnest for the cause until its fortunes began to waver, and then he abandoned it with his militia. After the war he was next heard of in the Chicago Republican Convention. In fact, that gentleman might say with the poet laureate's brook:

> "Men may come and men may go,
> But I go on forever."

[Laughter.] He was next heard of as a radical candidate for the United States Senate, but was beaten by a more moderate Republican—the late Joshua Hill. He next appeared as the appointee of the carpet-bag Governor of Georgia—the prince of carpet-baggers, Bullock—to the office of chief justice of that State, which position he subsequently resigned to take the presidency of a railroad company. Now that gentleman was here as the leader of the Democratic party, and his explanation was that the Democratic party had erred and abandoned him, but that now it had righted itself and rallied on his (Mr. Brown's) grand reserve of undying and unchangeable principles. [Laughter.] That gentleman had alluded to

"RUMORS OF A BARGAIN."

If there were any truth in those rumors, then he (Mr. Mahone) was indebted for any advantage he might draw from it to the fact that the Senator from Georgia did not know of the opportunity. [Laughter.] On that point he (Mr. Mahone) would answer all the innuendoes of Senators distinctly and gravely, and with due regard to the dignity and decorum of the Senate. He hurled back with scorn and contempt every imputation that his action here had been induced by any other consideration than that of the promotion of his people's interests, and of the welfare of the whole country. He might occupy the Senate for an hour with rumors as to the manner in which the Senator from Georgia (Mr. Brown) got to the Senate, and the gentleman should learn from that fact the valuable lesson that every Senator should be left to adjust his accounts with his constituents. He avowed his responsibility—his proud responsibility—for the introduction of Mr. Riddleberger's name as a candidate for office, but professed his readiness to withdraw that name if it were true (as report had it) that Democratic Senators would then withdraw their opposition to the election of officers of the Senate. He admitted the correctness of the newspaper statement, read last Saturday by the Senator from Kentucky (Mr. Beck), as to the speech of the colored delegate, Moss, and the motion for his expulsion made by Mr. Riddleberger, and he proceeded to explain that matter, intimating that, if the motive for expulsion had been on account of color, the Senator would probably have regarded the motion as a recommendation to Mr. Riddleberger. This opposition to Mr. Riddleberger was in view of the coming election in Virginia. It was the desire to uphold Bourbonism there; it was the desire to uphold a party which, while openly professing obedience to the Constitution, held by mental reservation purposes

HOSTILE TO THE CONSTITUTION.

It was to uphold a party there which did not believe in the right of the freedman to vote. It was to uphold a party that, while nominally accepting the Cincinnati platform, in which a full vote, a free ballot and an honest count had been demanded, has introduced a constitutional amendment requiring that no man should cast a ballot for any office on any account until he had paid a capitation tax. This effort was to uphold a party which defied the Democratic creed, and which had undertaken, by methods of indirection, to disfranchise the colored man. That was the purpose, and whether his colleague had voted for that disfranchising clause, he could not speak. He (Mr. Mahone) had never given that doctrine his assent, either in public or at the ballot box. For one, he wanted no political serfs in Virginia. He wanted no longer any condition of personal servitude. He asserted the right, sacred to all men, of a free, untrammelled ballot, a priceless ballot, and, whatever might be the professions of gentlemen on that subject, he stood prepared here on this floor by the courage of the men who were behind him at home to assure the country that, in Virginia at least, there should be a free suffrage—a priceless suffrage, a full vote and an honest count. [Applause in the galleries.] He stood here to guarantee the enforcement of the laws, and he said it by the brave men who stood at his back in the cause of freedom. He would tell Senators that his friend Riddleberger was made of sterner stuff than they calculated, and would survive any record investigation. The record refuted the statement that he (Mr. Mahone) had been elected by the Bourbon funding party. He had been the candidate of the people who had nominated him at the polls by a majority of over 20,000, in an election where the Senatorship had been made an issue. He knew of no consideration which could have induced him to have taken a seat in this Senate, or to have held any place at the hands of the Bourbon funding party of Virginia. He was to it or its champions, here or elsewhere. His allegiance, under God, was to his country, and his first duty to the people of Virginia. It was true the Readjusting party had been instructing its electors for Hancock and English, but it was equally true that it had forborne, and purposely forborne, from instructing for those candidates as the nominees of the Democratic party. He referred to the manner of his election, asserting that there had been combinations against him, and that the Democratic party, which, like Cæsar's wife stood above suspicion, had been willing to trade a seat in the United States Senate for a few county offices. If that was the Democracy that the gentleman on the other side loved, none of it for him. The purpose of the Readjusters was to stay the retrograde movement of years, so as to bring Virginia back from number 15 in the grade of States to her original position in the sisterhood of States. Far be it from him that his action should be controlled or influenced by a caucus whose party had waged war on his constituents, and whose party success was held paramount to what he conceived to be the interest of Virginia and the welfare of the whole country. The Readjusters of Virginia had no feeling of hostility, no words of unkindness, for the colored race. He had faith, and it was his earnest hope that the march of enlightened civilization and human progress would proceed until God's great family should everywhere enjoy the blessings of civil, religious and political liberty. The colored man had been loyal to Virginia in all the days of conflict and bloodshed which had come of the heroic struggle in the war of the sections. By no act of his was either the clash of arms or his freedom invoked. He had not measured his duties by consideration of self interest; not so much could be said of the distinguished Statesman who urged the South to resist the Readjusters in behalf of principles held to be fundamental. Virginia had not forgotten her abandonment from that quarter, and needed no counsel as to her duty. To him and the people of Virginia the South—as the phrase went—was a

"MERE GEOGRAPHICAL EXPRESSION,"

and no longer epitomized a dream of empire. I do not question, he said, in conclusion, the grandeur of that hope and aspiration, but it was quenched in blood, and the South of our day has acquiesced in the decision of the war. The Democratic party affirms that decision in its national platforms and in the declarations of its chairmen. I am here to assert that Virginia, the mother of the Union, renews her old-time faith and devotion to the government that her honored sons aided to construct, and, in furtherance thereof, I propose to give my best abilities and to exert my every energy. [Applause and hisses in the galleries.]

CARD.

To the Public:

The PROMISED BIG SIGN is up, and flying, on Kenduskeag Bridge, over MR. N. KENNEY'S old and well established Meat Market, near the place where I sold my first fish in Bangor, thirty-five years ago this month, one week before the great flood drove me back, till the Market was rebuilt, then into it and at it again on the same Bridge; then driven by fire into Norombega Market. Had money then; left it with nothing. In connection with Mr Kenney, by honest and upright dealings, with all hopes to make something yet, I do most sincerely desire the patronage of all my old friends and customers in the City and country, and you shall be assured of getting as good meats as you want, and as nice fresh and salt fish in their season, as can be found in any other Market in the State.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.
CALL, MY FRIENDS, AND SEE ME.
Yours truly,
Maj. THOMAS BICKFORD.

THE PRESIDENT'S POLICY.

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

Two facts stand out prominently in the recent appointments of President Garfield, He does not proscribe nor make war upon any class of Republicans. But he remembers that the people intrusted to him, and not to anybody else, the responsibilities of the Executive office, and he intends to be President himself.

There is nothing in this state of facts to which any true Republican can reasonably take exception. The President was not elected, by the hearty concurrence of 4,450,000 Republican voters, for the purpose of making war upon any element or leader in the party. Nor was he so elected for the purpose of enabling any leader or element to proscribe any other class of Republicans, or to dictate to him, or through him. He was chosen because it was believed that he would be just and fair toward all. If he is not, if he begins to proscribe any class of sincere Republicans, then there will be good ground for complaint. When certain appointments in New York were made last week, which gave unmixed satisfaction to the friends of Senator Conkling, there were some who hastily rushed to the conclusion that the considerable body of Republicans in this State who had dissented from that Senator were going to be ostracized. But that impression was quickly corrected, when one of the ablest and worthiest of those who had so dissented was named for Collector. It appears that the President does not propose to ostracize either element or interest, but will appoint good men from each to aid in the administration of public affairs. That was precisely what the Republican party wanted when it selected for President, not Mr. Conkling, nor any man supposed to be likely to consult his wishes exclusively, not any foe or rival of his, nor any man supposed to be inclined to oppose his wishes out of personal hostility, but an independent Republican statesman who was on friendly terms with all prominent elements and leaders of the party.

The appointment of Senator Robertson will be judged upon its merits. It does not appear to strike the Republicans of New York unfavorably, judging from the unanimity of the response forwarded by the Republican Senators and Representatives at Albany. Nor will there be found, in the character or record of the nominee, any good ground for criticising it. That it satisfies and gratifies the very class of Republicans who, in view of other appointments, were in danger of feeling that they were "left out in the cold," will not seem an objection to any man who really desires Republican unity and success. Moreover, the great body of Republicans throughout the country will rejoice at it, because it is in some sense a recognition of a right affirmed by the first National Republican Convention at Pittsburg, affirmed again by the National Republican Convention at Cincinnati in 1876, and affirmed again by the last National Republican Convention at Chicago—the right of the Republican voters in a district to be represented by delegates of their own choosing, who express their wishes.

It will not be found that any Republican Senator will be so weak as to oppose this nomination because the President saw fit to make it "without consulting him." That would be an assertion of a right to dictate to the President whom the people have chosen. It is safe to say that no Senator will set up such a claim. When the President desires information, or has doubts, he will naturally consult with Senators and Representatives. When he has no doubt nor lack of information, but is clear in his judgment as to what he ought to do, he is not called upon to consult with any Representative, any Senator, or even with any member of his Cabinet. The Constitution places the responsibility upon him. No Senator will assert that he ought to abdicate it.

Democratic journals please themselves with the idea that there will be a great quarrel about the New York appointments. But they have promised themselves great comfort from Senator Conkling more than once before, which they did not receive. There is no reason, except in Democratic anxiety, for supposing that either of the Republican Senators from this State will make any opposition to an appointment which both branches of the New York Legislature have unanimously commended and which looks to the harmony of the party. Nor is there anything in the history of those Senators to lead to the belief that either of them will array himself so plainly against the interests or wishes of the party, or place himself so clearly in the wrong. Nor is there anything in the history of the Republican party to lead to the belief that if they did they could escape sooner or later the disastrous defeat they would have invited and deserved.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Judge Clifford has been removed from Washington to his Portland home.

David Davis takes up too much of the time of Congress in explaining his position on the fence.—New Orleans Picayune (Dem.)

The theory upon which the Democratic Senators proceed is the right of the minority to rule. They have become accustomed to it by their practice in the South.

We are afraid some of our friends talk altogether too flippantly about a "break" between the friend of Senator Conkling and the Administration.—Albany Express (Rep.)

Ex-Senator Pomery, of Kansas, is at present in North Carolina, managing a gold mine with success. He has also invented a machine for extracting gold from quartz rock.

Gov. Littlefield, of Rhode Island, has accepted both the Republican and Prohibitory nominations for re-election. Last year he was vigorously opposed by the Prohibitionists.

Considering what a bad and worthless man General Mahone is, according to the Democrats, it is wonderful how mad they are at losing the pleasure of his company. —Norristown Herald (Rep.)

How Senator Platt can be made to oppose Robertson, when the latter led the anti-Stalwart members of the Legislature to his (Platt's) support in the Senatorial election, is not quite clear.—Syracuse Journal (Rep.)

Chicago is having an exciting municipal campaign. Carter Harrison, the present Mayor, has been renominated by the Democrats. Mr. Clark, the Republican candidate, pledges himself to enforce the Sunday and liquor laws if elected.

The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle (Dem.) does not appreciate Senator Voorhees, and has this to say about his recent performance in the Senate; "If legislative checks are needed against national banks let some safer advocate than 'softly, silvery' moneyed Voorhees be intrusted with the subject. Western financial ideas have ruined the Democratic party, and will swamp the country."

Mr. James Russell Lowell in his Worcester address, mentioned as examples of self-culture Abraham Lincoln and General Garfield. It was curious, he said, that those who turned out to be remarkable men generally met with encouragement at the time they wanted it, and General Garfield was among the examples. His career from the time he made up his mind to acquire education might almost be said to have been heroic.

The following anecdote is told of Alexander II. A few years before his death, while visiting Odessa, a cashiered officer broke through his guards and casting himself on his knees besought the Emperor to grant him justice. The Emperor answered that he would consider his case. "No, no," exclaimed the man, "if you do not see justice done me at once I am lost." Then the Czar heard his story, saw that a cruel wrong had been done, and promised that the officer should be reinstated. Even this, however, did not satisfy the man. Tell me here, before everybody, that I am an officer of yours, Father, and sign this paper. Your mere word would not be observed once your back was turned." Nicholas would have bounded at this insinuation, but Alexander II. tacitly acquiesced in it and did what was asked of him.

New Thing.

A plate of thick French plate glass, 8 by 14 inches, inserted into the oven door of that splendid and justly popular cooking range

THE NEW CLARION.

This improvement is valuable and can best be appreciated by housekeepers. All articles can be seen while in process of baking or roasting, without opening the oven door, thereby preventing all odors from escaping and all kinds of pastry and cake from falling, and insuring a perfect success in roasting meats and poultry. The glass is ½ inch best French plate and capable of withstanding intense heat without injury, while no smoke or steam can obstruct the view from the oven. The glass is in a frame which is attached inside of the door and can be removed without danger of breaking. We would call attention to the many and valuable improvements we have added to the

and would be glad to have a call from any one who would like to look at the best results of long labor in this department of manufacturing in our country.

The MASSACHUSETTS MUTUAL is chartered by a State whose Life Insurance Companies have never failed to pay 100 cents on a dollar of honest liability. While it is an economical and conservative company, it is also pushing and progressive.

Its policies, protected by the non-forfeiture law of Massachusetts, offer the most desirable forms of life insurance contract.

Parties should at least examine the equitable features of the new non-forfeiture law, and the inducements offered by the Massachusetts Mutual, before insuring their lives.

To the Public:

The PROMISED BIG SIGN is up, and flying, on Kenduskeag Bridge, over MR. N. KENNEY'S old and well-established Meat Market, near the place where I sold my first fish in Bangor, [illegible] years ago this month, one week before the great flood drove me back, till the Market was rebuilt, then into it and at it again on the same Bridge, then driven by fire into Norombega Market. Had money then; left it with nothing. In connection with Mr Kenney, by honest and upright dealings with all hopes to make something yet, I do most sincerely desire the patronage of all my old friends and customers in the city and country, and you shall be assured of getting as good a deal as you want, and as nice, fresh and salt fish in their season, as can be found in any other Market in the State.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.

BY TELEGRAPH.

MAINE NEWS.

The Storm at Portland.

PORTLAND, March 31. A snow storm commenced at six o'clock last night and continues to-day, but no disasters are reported, as the wind is not violent. Some damage has been done to the wharves and the telephone and fire alarm wires are badly broken.

Explosion and Fire.

AUGUSTA, March 31. Adamson's Cough Balsam is manufactured by F. W. Kinsman & Co., of this city, at their drug store on the corner of Bridge and Water streets. In the preliminary stages the ingredients are compounded in huge carboys in the cellar of the store. This forenoon Mr. Kinsman entered the cellar with a lighted candle to shake up the carboys to assist the assimilation of the chemicals, when suddenly one of the carboys burst as he was moving it. The gas poured out in a suffocating volume and the liquid ran out upon the floor. When the gas came in contact with the flame of the candle, it instantly ignited and the cellar was full of flame and smoke. An alarm was sounded and the fire department was promptly on hand. Three streams were soon deluging the cellar and in a short time the danger was over and the fire put out. The loss it is estimated will exceed $2,500; fully insured.

Death of a Former Resident.

MACHIAS, March 31. News came to his family here to-day of the death of Frank S. Coffin in Nevada. He was formerly well known as a school teacher in Machias and an insurance agent at Bangor.

A SERIOUS RAILROAD ACCIDENT

Caused by Criminal Carelessness.

SEVERAL PERSONS INJURED FATALLY.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, March 31. On the Rock Island Road, near Walnut, in this county, a construction train collided with a freight train, west bound, demolishing the construction train, including the caboose.

In the latter were about 25 employes, all of whom were more or less injured. Several will probably die.

The accident was the result of the failure of the operator to place the signals for the freight to stop at Walnut.

FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

Special Session of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 31.

Mr. Dawes called up the resolutions for the election of officers of the Senate.

Mr. Cameron of Pennsylvania, said the present issue was too plain to be misunderstood. The Republican side said the majority had the right to decide who should be the officers of the Senate; its opponents said the minority had. He had recently said that it seemed to be a question of endurance. The minority simply said they would resist the election of officers by dilatory motions and prolonged speeches: His answer was that the Republicans could not abandon the right of the majority to rule because the minority made a question of endurance.

Mr. Cameron defended Mr. Mahone and said the Democrats of the South had appealed to the Southern Democratic Senators to cover the Senator from Virginia, with approbrium, so that his followers at home would not dare to support him.

Mr. Maxcy believed the people thought the majority in the Senate had been procured by crooked means. Certainly the people did believe that it had been obtained by methods strange and unusual and demanded an investigation.

Mr. Dawes replied in reference to the claim made by Mr. Maxcy that the Democrats carried Louisiana in '76 by 8000 majority. He said there was difference between what was called a vote. The gentlemen called a piece of paper a vote. He (Dawes) counted nothing a vote that had not a free ballot behind it. Mr. Dawes reminded the Senator that there was a difference between a piece of paper and the vote of the freeman that executed the will of God in executing the will of the freeman.

Mr. Maxcy inquired how it was that those ballots which executed the will of God had been sufficient to elect Ex-President Hayes and not elect Gov. Packard though Gov. Packard received more of them.

Mr. Dawes agreed with Mr. Maxcy that Gov. Packard was elected but asserted that the Louisiana Lottery Company had succeeded in establishing Nichol's government.

The debate continued until five o'clock when the Senate adjourned without engaging in any executive business.

NEW YORK.

Cutting Down Telegraph Rates.

ALBANY, March 31. In the Assembly a bill was reported prohibiting telegraph companies charging over 20 cents for messages of 15 words, exclusive of the address and signature, and providing that press rates shall be one-half of that rate. A penalty of $500 is provided for each offence.

Warmer Weather Coming.

NEW YORK, March 31. Weather despatches show a rise in the temperature of from 3 to 8 degrees in the West, excepting a fall of 13 degrees at Duluth and St. Paul.

Not Guilty.

DELHI, March 31. The jury in the case of Polly Haskins, charged with the murder of her husband, returned a verdict of not guilty.

Suffocated by Coal Gas.

NEW YORK, March 31. Mrs. Mary A. Nelson and daughter, aged 18, were suffocated by coal gas Wednesday night at Port Chester.

Will of the Late William Beach Lawrence.

The will of the late William Beach Lawrence was offered for probate to-day. After making provisions for his children and grand children the will closes as follows: Aware of ruinous consequences of litigation to all concerned in case of wills, I hereby declare it to be my will that in any case any decendent opposing the will shall be debarred from its provisions.

Lower Rates.

NEW YORK, March 31. The rates from Chicago to New York on grain, provisions and live hogs has been reduced five cents commencing April 1st, to continue through the summer months.

CONNECTICUT.

Arrested for Slander.

MERIDEN, March 31. Luther G. Riggs, publisher of the Meriden Recorder, has been arrested on a charge of slandering Mayor Curtis in his paper for the past month. Riggs gave bonds to answer to-morrow.

Amendment Defeated.

HARTFORD, March 31. The House of Representatives defeated the proposed Constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors.

CANADA.

Inducements held out by the Government to French Canadians.

MONTREAL, March 31. Mr. Daley, local immigration agent, has returned from an extensive visit to Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Maine, where be was disseminating information among French Canadians regarding the inducements held out by the Government in grants of land for their returning to Canada. He reports finding a strong feeling among the Canadians in favor of coming back, and in many localities clubs have been formed for the purpose of organizing the emigration movement.

ANOTHER FLOOD.

The Missouri River Overflows its Banks.

MANY PEOPLE DROWNED.

The Damage to Property Very Large.

BISMARCK, Minn., March 31. The Missouri broke here to-day. The lower part of the city is overflowed and a great sea of ice or water extends five miles. Three government warehouses on the landing are wrecked.

The river rose ten feet in a few hours, and is now 30 feet above low water mark. The wood choppers and settlers in the low lands are all washed out and many probably drowned.

The town of Mandan, on the west side of the river, is under three feet of water.

The greatest loss aside from life will be cord wood. Thousands of cords are being swept away. A special from Sioux City says there is 30 feet of water in the channel at Yankton. The lower part of the city is overflowed driving the inhabitants to the hills. It is the greatest flood ever known and the damage is immense.

The city of Vermilla, Dakota, is also inundated, the water being up to the second story windows. The occupants have taken to the bluffs in boats and will probably be landed in places of safety before morning.

The Latest.

WASHINGTON, March 21. The signal corps observer at Yankton, D. T., reports as follows: The water has risen six feet in the past two hours and is within one hundred yards of the office. Green Island opposite has been swept away.

A later despatch says: The river was up to 40 feet at five P. M., but is now falling. The office cellar is flooded. One hundred houses are submerged, involving a loss estimated at $50,000.

BISMARCK, D. T., March 31. The Missouri is the highest ever known. Mandan, opposite Bismarck, is flooded, the water being four feet deep and large masses of ice floating in the streets. It is thought the people escaped to the cliffs, but the suffering must be indescribable as the thermometer is down to 12° above for the past 24 hours. To-night the river is 30 feet above low water mark and no signs of giving way. Two hundred cattle perished in this vicinity.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The South American War.

NEW YORK, March 31. Don Martinez, the new Chilian Minister to the United States is in town and states that Lima, at the end of last month, was quiet and orderly. The people seemed to welcome the Chilians as delivers. The conditions of peace are the promise of Tempace, with its port of Iquique containing the nitre deposits, be retained by Chili, and also the Labos Islands with their guano beds.

A heavy war indemnity will be demanded. Until it is paid Chili will occupy a large strip of land north of the basin of Camarrones, including the cities of Tacna and Irica. The Chincha Islands will not be annexed.

Brief Notes.

DUBLIN, March 31. The Land League is trying to organize local branches here to bring a pressure upon the traders who have kept aloof from the League or given it no substantial support.

Al. the preliminaries have been arranged and Friday night's Dublin Gazette will contain a proclamation putting the Arms Act into operation in Ireland. It is not intended to put the act into force all over Ireland at once. At first it will probably be proclaimed only in five counties.

LONDON, March 31. The News confirms the report that England declined the invitation to the Monetary Conference.

Lord Beaconsfield's condition is considerably improved.

WASHINGTON.

Cabinet Matters.

Attorney-General McVeagh's retirement from the Cabinet is again the subject of speculation. It is claimed that he has exerted himself to defeat the confirmation of Messrs Chandler and Robertson, and the President's friends represent that he is disposed to take McVeagh's reported interference very seriously. It is not likely that Chandler or Robertson will be withdrawn.

A Change.

WASHINGTON, March 31. It is understood that the President has decided to recall General Longstreet, Minister to Turkey, and appointed him United States Marshal for Georgia. The nomination will probably be sent to the Senate in a day or two.

The removal of Charles S. Clark, the one-armed driver of Champion Hook and Ladder Co., is exciting much comment, unfavorable to those directly responsible for it. The wish that Mr. Clark may be reinstated appears to be pretty general.

The following item will be of interest to some of our readers: George J. Jones, the well-known theatrical manager, has brought suit in Boston against Mrs. H. E. N. Carter for $2000, for a breach of contract, she having left his troupe to sing under other management.

Abram Merrill, father of Charles Merrill, who is now in jail for the inhuman murder of his mother, has nearly recovered his health from the shock produced by his trouble which nearly prostrated him. He intends to sell his farm in China, and will go into the grocery business in Hallowell.—Journal.

CORRECTION. Our reporter was recently informed that our esteemed citizen M. I. S. Johnson was about to remove from this city, and an item to that effect appeared in these columns. We now have the pleasure of stating that the report was incorrect, and that Mr. Johnson proposes to remain a citizen of Bangor.

INSURANCE. A statement of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, Springfield, Mass., appears in our advertising columns this morning. By this statement it will be seen that the surplus December 31, 1880, amounted to $805,742.50. Capt. William Flowers is agent for Bangor and vicinity.

A DEN THAT NEEDS ATTENTION. Isn't it about time that that "dangerous den" on Hammond street was broken up? It is an ulcer upon a respectable neighborhood. In addition to the lesser crimes of drunken rows and robberies that have been of frequent occurrence there, we may yet be called upon to chronicle some terrible tragedy unless it is soon cleaned out.

Complaint is made of the impassable condition of the sidewalks of lower Broad street, rendered so by numerous potato, hay and junk teams which are backed across them, compelling passes-by to go around the horses heads into the mud. The question has been asked, "are the sidewalks for pedestrians or for truckmen?"

AN INGENIOUS CONVICT. Sam Haines, in State Prison for murder, has finished a most ingenious piece of workmanship in the shape of a bottle about six inches high and two square, in which is a reel, so exquisitely constructed that it exactly fits the bottle and cannot be moved, and around the reel is wound a number of threads of fine silk. The ingenuity of the work lies in the fact that the reel was placed in the bottle in pieces and put together with the aid of tweezers, and the silk was also wound around the reel.

Wallace Ross has issued a challenge to Warren Smith of Halifax, offering to row him for $1,000 a side, either on the Kennebecasis or Bedford Basin, giving or taking $200 expenses, or Ross will row him him on Lake Maranacook, each paying his own expenses, Smith to have the privilege of naming the distance. Hosmer, Riley and Courtney can be accommodated by the New Brunswicker on the same terms.

Mr. Charles Horbury, of Lewiston, has recovered through his attorneys the sum of $64 50 from the manager of the Criterian Comedy Company. This company was advertised to play in Lewiston Feb. 17th, but disbanded in Portland and failed to appear. Mr. Horbury was to "share them," and expenses amounting to the above sum fell upon him. The above is an agreeable settlement of his claim.

BUSINESS ON THE KENNEBEC. The Journal says the extensive steam saw mill of Sturgis, Lambard & Co., will start up next Monday. There are now on hand logs enough to enable them to run some three weeks, and by that time the immense "drives" up river will be along. There is a brisk demand for all the lumber that this mill can produce, and it is the intention of the proprietors to keep their saws running as long as possible. From fifty to sixty men will be furnished with employment at remunerative wages.

MARINE NOTES. The schooner John Wentworth, from South Amboy, N. J., for Bangor, with coal for T. G. Stickney, sprung aleak and sunk off Nauset Light, Mass., Tuesday. Her cargo was insured. The John Wentworth was a good vessel of 124 tons, built and partially owned in Bucksport. The schooner Jacob & William, which was abandoned last Tuesday night off Boon Island, was owned here. She was an old vessel, of 103 tons register, formerly belonging in Brooksville. Her crew had been clinging to the rigging for fourteen hours when rescued by the schooner David A. Strong, and were badly frost bitten.

DEATH OF MRS. GEN. VARNEY. We learned at a late hour last night that Mrs. Gen. George Varney had passed away. Observing that she was in a sinking condition yesterday, her friends telegraphed to her father, Gen. Smith, and her brother, and they made the journey from Waterville, by special train, arriving here at a little past noon. The announcement of the lady's death will be received with profound grief by a large circle of acquaintances in this city where she has ever been held in high esteem and affection. Gen. Varney will have the most heartfelt sympathy of all in his sad bereavement.

UMBRELLA LANGUAGE. To place your umbrella in a rack indicates that it is about to change owners. An umbrella carried over the woman, the man getting nothing but the drippings of the rain, signifies courtship. When the man has the umbrella and the woman the drippings, it indicates marriage. To carry it at right angles under your arm signifies that an eye is to be lost by the man who follows you. To put a cotton umbrella by the side of a nice silk one indicates, "exchange is no robbery." To lend an umbrella indicates "I am a fool." To carry an open umbrella just high enough to tear out men's eyes and knock off men's hats indicates "I am a woman."

DOVER ITEMS. Mr. Editor: Chas. N. Rogers, a report of whose numerous marriages was given in a recent copy of the WHIG, has confessed his misdeeds and left town and I guess no one wants to see him enough to bring him back.——The Norfolk Jubilee Singers gave a good concert here Wednesday night. The hall was filled and a large number were unable to even find standing room. When the manager perfects his troupe he will have the end man with the drooping eyelid hung on wires so he can be manipulated at appropriate times instead of in season and out of season as at present. This would better please the majority of his audience. *

G. A. R. General order No. 2 has just been issued by Department Commander W. G. Haskell, of the G. A. R. of Maine, from the G. A. R. headquarters in Lewiston. The order reviews the proceedings of the 14th annual encampment at Rockland. It earnestly requests all comrades to report to headquarters, the names of ex-soldiers or sailors, in localities where Posts of the order do not exist, who are favorably disposed to the formation of such Posts. Necessary blanks and information will be furnished by addressing the Assistant Adjutant General, D. H. Holman, Lewiston. The order also directs special attention to the matter of uniforms. Commander Haskell has also issued a complete roster of the department of Maine. The names of the department officers, the representatives of the National Encampent, Past Department Commanders, aids de camp, and the names, location and officers of all the different Posts are given. There are 48 Posts in Maine.

PITTSFIELD ITEMS. A town meeting has been called for April 9th to see if the town will vote to adopt the "town system" of schools and the "free text book system."——At our last town meeting it was voted to raise $8,000 for a fire department. A vote of thanks was tendered to the fire companies of Bangor and Waterville and the M. C. R. R. for timely assistance on the night of our fire.——On Wednesday evening the E. B. B. Literary Society held their semi-annual public meeting at M. C. Institute. The following order of exercises was presented: Music, prayer, opening address by Cora E. Gardiner; Recitation: "The leak in the dyke," by Mary E. Stedman; Essay:—"Justice," by Luetta E. Blanchard. Then came music and recess, followed by select reading by Mr. Addie Jennison and the paper by Cora E. Whitney and Herbert O. Ellis. Music was furnished by Brackett. The exercises passed off in a very pleasant and acceptable manner——Prof. Wm. P. Morgan was to lecture here Thursday evening on "The Monuments of Paris," but owing to the snow storm the lecture has been postponed to some future date. ——F. J. Taylor, M. D., a graduate of Rush Medical College, Chicago, has located here for the practice of medicine and surgery. *

AMUSEMENTS.

Lawrence Barrett.

Tickets for Mr. Barrett's representation of "Richelieu" will be ready to-morrow morning. Of the performance the Detroit Post says:

A fine audience and one thoroughly appreciative of the admirable acting presented, witnessed Mr. Lawrence Barrett's grand performance of "Richelieu" last evening. The picture of firm old age coupled with keen mental vigor which he presents is very strong in coloring and exquisite in shading. Not a point was lost last evening when Mr. Barrett projected himself into his work with great force. His "Richelieu" was always a remarkable personation and it seems to have gained new strength and finish. The curse scene, the most intensely theatrical in effect which Bulwer's drama presents, took the house by storm, but the perfect poise and delicate finish of Mr. Barrett's performance in its entirety were as keenly appreciated as the mere outbursts of passion. Miss Marie Wainwright as "Julie" gave evidence of excellent adaptability for more exacting roles, and the support throughout was even and strong. Mr. James won new favor as the gallant "De Mauprat." Mr. Bock's "Baradas" and Mr. Rogers's "Joseph" were well considered performances, which demand commendation.

NOTES.

Miss Maude Forrester, with her trained steed "Lightning," will appear in Norombega Hall in "Mazeppa," April 12th.

A "Ladies' Matinee" will be given in Norombega the latter part of this month, when Mrs. Henrietta Chanfrau will appear in a new version of "East Lynne."

Sol Smith Russell, comedian supported by a dramatic company, in "Edgewood Folks," will follow Mr. Barrett

Subscriptions for the Academy of Music are still coming in, and we are informed that the success of the enterprise is now assured. It is hoped to begin active operation by the first of May. In that event the new house will be ready to open in October.

A PLEASANT AFFAIR.

The Rev. Mr. Hazlewood Receives a Merited Tribute from his Society.

Last evening the members of the First Baptist Church Society in this city paid a deserved and feeling tribute to the moral, social and intellectual worth of their pastor, the Rev. F. T. Hazlewood. The occasion was the reverend gentleman's birthday, and was deemed an auspicious time in which to express the esteem, admiration and love entertained by the Society for their pastor.

At an early hour a large assembly had gathered at the residence of the pastor on Essex street, which was called to order by Mr. James Woodbury, who after briefly stating the objects of the gathering, introduced the Hon. F. M. Laughton, as the one who should essay the pleasing task of conveying to the pastor some token of the Society's high appreciation of his abilities as a preacher, his worth as a man, his sacrifices in behalf of his society, and the interest he had manifested in the temporal and spiritual welfare of his parishioners.

Mr. Laughton, in a most happy speech, presented to Mr. Hazlewood, in behalf of the members of the Society, a substantial testimonial of their regard. He then proceeded to say that they had observed with pride a flattering recognition by the public of their pastor's rare abilities, noted his growing popularity until they had become alarmed lest the inducements held by broader fields and wealthier societies should prove too strong to be resisted. Mr. Laughton closed by reading a poem from the pen of Mrs. Mace, as follows:

A BIRTHDAY SONNET
TO REV. F. T. HAZLEWOOD.

Happy the hour when to the pleasant rays
Of opening Spring, so glad a life begun!
Happy the fates who, smiling softly, spun
The lustrous woof of pure, industrious days!
Happy the stars which with auspicious gaze
Looked down and traced in colors of the sun
A shining horoscope of tasks well done.
But when to Christ-devoted work and praise
The richest years of opening youth were given,
There was no further need for star or fate
Or any prophecy of weal or woe.
Life thus begun in the charge of Heaven;
And to God's will and service consecrate,
Good, only good, can life or death bestow!

In response, the Rev. Mr. Hazlewood said that the cable that bound him to his society had received a strain almost too great to bear, but he felt relieved and rejoiced that he had resisted the importunities of others, as he felt that his work in Bangor was not yet finished—that he had a duty yet to perform. In a brief and hurriedly written synopsis it would be impossible to convey the pathetic and eloquent words of the pastor, the sincerity of which he has proved by declining to accept a pressing call, with double his present salary, preferring as he said, to remain with those whom he had learned to love and esteem.

At the conclusion of the pastor's remarks refreshments were served. Upon a table was observed a large cake, beautifully frosted and trimmed, upon the top of which were the words "Welcome Friends," while encircling the sides was the name of the pastor.

Excellent vocal and instrumental music added to the charms of the occasion, many choice selections being skillfully rendered.

Altogether, it was an event that must linger long in the memories of those who participated, while to the Rev. Mr. Hazlewood it must ever be treasured up as a brilliant gem among the beautiful jewels in the casket of memory.

Police Court.

Recorder Perkins disposed of the following cases yesterday:

Daniel Delaney, Edward Leonard, Dennis Crowley, Ephraim Mayshell, for being drunk, were each fined $3 and costs.

John Newell, an Indian, was sentenced to jail for 30 days for being drunk.

Thomas Murphy, for a second offence of drunkenness, was sentenced to jail for 90 days.

Municipal Elections.

Elections were held in the towns named below, Monday, March 28, with the following results:

BRADLEY.

Moderator, Sargent French; Clerk, J. A. Rich; Selectmen, A. E. Perkins, O. S. Cram, Ransom Hinkley; Treasurer, J. A. Rich; Collector, Jerry Bell; S. S. Committee, John N. Knapp, Jr.

MEDWAY.

Moderator, T. Fowler; Town Clerk, J. F. Twitchell; Selectmen, J. F. Twitchell, T. W. Reed, A. Hathaway; Overseers of the Poor, T. Fowler, J. O. Hale, S. N. Fisk; Town Agent, J. F. Kimball. It was voted to raise $1,400 for the support of the poor, schools and incidental expenses.

Cruelty to Animals.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

We are glad that you gave another loud call to our society with the "long name" and, as a member of it, allow me to say, that we still live and have a few active members, but there is in a very old book an inquiry like this: "Who goeth a warfare at his own charges?" We have men and women who are anxious to have the law for prevention of cruelty to animals enforced; but the Society has no friends and the execution of the law is not only attended with expense but the most of the offenders are intemperate and poor and when prosecuted have no means to pay fine and costs, go to jail at the expense of the county, etc., and if we take the old horses and kill them, as we should, it costs money to get them removed and buried, and then the man is left without the animal that hauls the few feet of wood to the city by which he gets sufficient means to keep his family from starving. It is easy to call for the prosecuting officer, but its another thing for him to do his duty, or to do what the public demands. It is very like an attempt to execute the liquor law and raises about the same opposition and much more sympathy for the victim. Two persons have served out sentences at our jail, and some have paid small fines and a large number have been let off, they promising to keep the peace.

Other organizations have a large fund from which to draw and persons employed under pay, whose duty it is to prosecute all offenders. I understand that the Portland Society has lately had donated to them eight thousand dollars to aid them in their work. Who among us will put our Society in a condition to follow up the work so nobly begun some ten years ago, that has caused such beneficent results in and around our city, and encourage at least one of the MEMBERS?

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

NEURALGIA.

It has been ascertained that the most inveterate cases of neuralgia are cured by Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Not only is the principal disease eradicated, but the patient is made vigorous and strong; the stomach, the blood, the skin become healthy, and he obtains a new lease of enjoyable life.

The only satisfactory treatment of neuralgia is by strengthening the nervous system. A person with strong nerves never suffers from this disease.

The virtues of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites are such that other remedies are seldom required.

The demand for Hypophosphite and other Phosphorus preparations at the present day, is largely owing to the good effects and success following the introduction of this article in the United States.

IMPORTANT.

Should the invalid have any difficulty in procuring the Compound Syrup in his vicinity, let him not be put off with any other remedy, because this article has not its equal in the diseases for which it is recommended.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good." The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

Dr. C. W. BENSON,

BALTIMORE, MD.,

Inventor and Proprietor of the

CELERY AND CHAMOMILE PILLS.

These Pills have met with the most Remarkable Success as is attested by the Immense Sales they have Attained.

Parsons, Bangs & Co., have had Eighteen Hundred Dozens the Past Year.

Hundreds have testified to the Benefit they have derived from their use in the cure of Sick Headache, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Nervousness, Paralysis, Sleeplessness and Indigestion.

It is a Fully Established Fact, Based on Actual Experience, and There is No Kind of Doubt but They Will Cure These Diseases.

DR. C. W. BENSON'S CELERY AND CHAMOMILE PILLS are prepared expressly to cure Sick Headache, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Nervousness, Paralysis, Sleeplessness and Indigestion or Dyspepsia, and will cure any case, no matter how obstinate, if properly used. They are not a cure all, but only for those special diseases. They contain no opium, morphine or quinine, and are not a purgative, but regulate the bowels and cures constipation by curing or removing the causes of it. They have a charming effect upon the skin, and a lovely, quieting effect upon the nervous system, simply by feeding its ten thousand hungry, yes, in some cases starving absorbants. They make or create nerve matter and give power, force and buoyancy to the nerves, and in that way increase mental force, endurance and brilliancy of mind. Nobody that has a nervous system should neglect to take them two or three months in each year, simply as a nerve food, if for no other purpose. WOMAN'S TRIUMPH.

A Severe Surgical Operation. It is Endured without taking Ether. Subject, Mrs. Edward Myers, of Rondout, N. Y.

(From the Correspondence of the Kingston, N. Y. Freeman.)

The case of Mrs. Edward Myers, of Rondout, New York, furnishes an apt illustration of woman's power of endurance. This lady had been treated for months in the usual way for Erysipelas of the hand, without benefit. Not until her hand had become a mass of putrified flesh, did she turn to Dr. Kennedy, proprietor of the "Favorite Remedy" for help.

He at once informed her that it was impossible to save the hand—it must be amputated. She received this terrible intelligence quietly, declined to take ether, stipulating merely to hold her husband's hand during the operation, and underwent the painful process without moving a muscle or uttering a groan. Dr. Kennedy then gave "Favorite Remedy" freely to cleanse the blood and prevent the return of the disease, and Mrs. Myers now lives and rejoices in her great deliverance.

"Favorite Remedy" is fast becoming a trusted household friend in all cases of Female Weakness and diseases of the blood. One dollar a bottle. Your druggist has it.

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 7½ to 8½ P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window,) when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

The public are earnestly recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as the expense is less, and letters thus endorsed if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.

First-class envelopes of above furnished at $32.20 per thousand.

Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes cannot be used to prepay postage. The use of such Stamps is punishable by a fine of fifty dollars.
